IDEAS OF CHANGE

From Globalised Capitalism
In A Primitive Civilisation

To Community-Based Self-Government
In A More Advanced Society

APPENDIX FOUR

The Notion of Unity
ALL THE SAME STUFF

The key, therefore, to this adventure is the widespread re-cognition, i.e. knowing again, and promotion of 'The Notion of Unity' for it underpins all of the radical and practical suggestions being put forward here for bringing about the deliberate and urgently required 'Transformation of Society.'

This concept of 'Oneness' is not only being rediscovered in all the major religions of the world where it has lain hidden and/or suppressed for hundreds of years but is also coming to light within the latest scientific findings. (See ‘Suggested Background Reading’ below.)

Thus, it is being revealed, from both texts and experiments, that we and everything around us all are interconnected, interrelated and interdependent because we and everything around us are all made of the same stuff - namely, energy vibrating at different frequencies.

WE ARE ALL ONE

So where did this energy come from? One answer we have been given is from the prime source, first cause, the creator which some people call ‘God.’ (See, for example, Conversations with God, Book 1, Pages 21-28, and CwG, Book 3, Pages 168-181.)

And the reason why ‘God’ exploded out of no thing, at the time of ‘The Big Bang’, into physical existence, this ‘divinely inspired source of information’ explains, was so that She might experience Herself in all of Her magnificence in the material realm.
For, although He knew conceptually that He was magnificent, what He longed for was to know this feeling experientially. And the way in which It does this - in the realm of the relative thus created (as compared to that of the absolute where It resides) - is through us, Its spirit children.

‘God’, therefore, not only created the physical universe, both the visible and the invisible, in this one glorious moment but the metaphysical as well.

This It accomplished by dividing Itself into an infinite number of units, some of which reincarnate on this planet into a human life form as an individual soul, whenever they choose, i.e. as you and me, in order to evolve - by re-presenting the grandest version of our greatest vision of ourselves. (CwG, Book 1, pages 82-84.)

Thus, this enlarged perspective is re-minding us that Life is ‘God’, physicalised; that we are not apart from ‘God’ but are a part of ‘God’; and that, since we are not separate from each other, our surroundings or from ‘God’, We Are All One.

A CONSCIOUSNESS OF LOVE

But, it could well be asked, if this is Who We Are, i.e. the offspring of ‘God’, The All-That-Is, and She/He/It is so magnificent, why isn’t life on this planet already a paradise. Why doesn’t Heaven already exist here on Earth?

And the answer we have been given is simple. When we begin to take up a new physical existence in the realm of the relative, we forget Who We Are. (CwG, Book 1, Page 28.)
Believing, therefore, that we are separate from each other, our surroundings and ‘The All-That-Is’, while mistakenly perceiving that 'There Is Not Enough', we behave accordingly, i.e. in a generally competitive and harmful manner (as a result of which we have become organised into top-down, them-and-us, repressive pyramids of wealth and power.)

Thus it is that, having lived in this culture of fear, division and perceived scarcity for thousands of years, we have experienced so much pain, conflict and destruction and been brought by this limited worldview to our current, perilous situation - overlooking the edge of an abyss and poised to bring about our own extinction.

Then how, as a human race, can we overcome this predicament? Again the reply we have been given is very simple and it is by each of us re-membering Who We Are, that is by becoming once again a member of the whole.

For, as soon as this ‘Notion of Unity’ starts entering the hearts and minds of all people everywhere, a Consciousness of Love will begin spreading throughout the land.

CONSEQUENCES

And so our civilisation will inevitably alter the course it is on, if only to ensure its continued existence, and, then, radically change for the better.

For the widespread re-cognition of this more complete worldview, especially the realisation that there is ‘only one of us here, i.e. One-Self’, will have a number of profound, r/evolutionary and beneficial consequences for the human race.

In particular, it will be understood and accepted that ‘Self-Government’, the organisation of our own affairs for and by ourselves without recourse to hierarchy and domination, must be the next logical step in our evolution.

SOURCES

This short explanation of ‘The Notion of Unity’ is based upon and supported by much reading, a list of which appears below, and my own reflection and experience. Particularly recommended in this field are the books by Tim Freke, Neale Donald Walsch and associated websites (also given below.)

(Please Note. The use of the word ‘God’ in most of these titles, as in the above summary, does not refer to ‘a separate supernatural being out there’ but ‘a force, an energy, a consciousness that exists everywhere, including around and within ourselves.’)

Some Suggested Background Reading

Spirituality

Smith, A. B., A Reason For Living And Hoping, St Pauls Pub., 2002.
Vesey, N., Developing Consciousness, O Books, 2011.
Walsch, N. D., Conversations with God, Bks 1-3, Hod & St, 1995-8.

Religion

Science

A Few Quotes

"At the heart of pagan Philosophy is an understanding that all things are one." Freke & Gandy, The Jesus Mysteries, Page 21.

“If we are to use the dangerous word ‘God’ at all, we need to use it, like the ancient Gnostics, to signify the oneness of awareness within which the life-dream is arising.” Freke & Gandy, The Laughing Jesus, Page 183.

“Seek then to create change not because a thing is wrong but because it no longer makes an accurate statement of Who You Are.’ Walsch, CwG, Book 1, Page 36.

“The process of shifting the consciousness, increasing the spiritual awareness, of an entire planet, is a slow process. It takes time and great patience. Lifetimes. Generations. Yet slowly you are coming round. Gently you are shifting. Quietly there is change.” CwG, Book 2, Page 239.

“Effective political activism does not come from anger or hatred – and spiritual activism never does - but rather from love. It is not a question of making someone or something wrong; it is simply a decision to exchange the present reality for a new one, out of a new thought about Who You Are and Who You Choose To Be.”
Walsch, Friendship with God, Page 385.

“In the days of the New Spirituality the idea that politics and spirituality do not mix will be abandoned for ever. Remember, the New Spirituality says that politics is your spirituality, demonstrated. In the days to come, this will be recognised at last.” Walsch, Tomorrow’s God, Page 245.

“Humanity’s struggle is not a military struggle, it is a struggle for the mind. If it were merely a military struggle, then the struggle would be over, because the mightiest military would easily win.
Yet your histories, and world events to this very day, prove that the mightiest military cannot win anything. It can subdue, but it cannot be victorious. Subjugation and victory are not the same thing. Only when you change people’s minds can you claim victory in the struggle to bring peace and harmony to humanity.
And this will only occur when humanity understands that its problem is not a military problem, it is not a political problem, and it is not an economic problem. The problem facing humanity today is a spiritual problem.” Walsch, Tomorrow’s God, Page 254. (See also, Walsch, The Storm Before The Calm, A New Human Manifesto, Conversation 16.)

"The only effective and permanent way to change the world in which we live is to change our level of consciousness." Keyes, Handbook to Higher Consciousness, Page 143.

“While many people today are in tune with this new vision of the unity underlying all reality - even if they have not heard about the scientific Field Theory - the fact remains, however, that all our major institutions, be they political, social, ecclesiastical, economic, still operate as if everything existed independently of the separate parts comprising it. Many of the major issues affecting our lives, and the lives of those who make and implement major decisions, are largely untouched by this new vision. They are still immersed in the old ‘mechanical’ consciousness. They still attempt to dominate, manipulate and control the world by controlling different sections and parts in isolation from others.’ Smith, God, Energy and the Field, Page 32.

"Where there is vision, people flourish, grow, emancipate, and create that which they desire." Hubbard, Conscious Evolution.

“Everyone who is seriously involved in the pursuit of science becomes convinced that a spirit is manifest in the laws of the universe – a spirit vastly superior to that of man.” Albert Einstein (1879-1955)

"Quantum physics thus reveals a basic oneness of the universe." Erwin Schrodinger (1887-1961)

A Few Links

A New Perspective: www.thevaccineforlife.com
A Stroke of Genius: www.ted.com/talks/view/id/229

The Mystery Experience: www.themysteryexperience.com
Conversations with God: www.cwg.org
The Golden Rule: www.humanclub.org/golden_rule.htm
CANA: www.christiansawakening.org
Wrekin Trust: www.wrekinforum.org
Interfaith Link: www.interfaith.org.uk

Quakers: www.quaker.org
Druidism: www.druidry.org
Humanity’s Team: http://www.teamhumanity.com

UK One Of World's Least Religious Countries, Survey Finds: http://www.theguardian.com/world/2015/apr/12/uk-one-of-worlds-least-religious-countries-survey-finds

Imagine Lyrics: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aIFY9h8DImg

Further background and supporting information available at: www.moreadvancedsociety.com

Colin Millen
www.ideasofchange.com
ideasofchange@phonecoop.coop

(Please feel free to save, copy and print this document)